

Emergency Contractors

Sometimes repairs are required out with normal office hours therefore we have provided numbers below for you to contact should the need arise. Calling a contractor out with normal working hours will incur increased call out rates therefore you should only call these numbers in case of an emergency and when absolutely necessary. Tradesmen calling out of hours may only carry out minimal work to remove any immediate issues, if further repairs are required these will be carried out during normal working hours. These details are provided as a courtesy and if you are unable to connect to any of the contractors detailed below for any reason please make alternative arrangements and notify us at repairs@speirsgumley.com or call us during normal office hours on the next working day.
